How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

FAM has rated the volatility of this fund as medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What is a mutual fund and what are the risks of investing in a mutual fund" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is the fund for?

Investors who:

- are looking for a long term investment
- are seeking distributions which are in the form of dividend income
- are comfortable with moderate changes in value during the term

Don't buy this fund if you have a low tolerance for risk and are seeking to preserve capital.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following shows the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Class F4 units of the fund.

The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among classes of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about the funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

There is no sales charge on the purchase of Class F4 Units. Instead, you pay your representative a fee under its wrap account or fee-for-service programs.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns. The fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, operating expenses and trading costs. The Class F4's annual management fee is 1.00% of its value. Because no Class F4 units have been issued since inception, the operating expenses and trading costs are not yet available.

More about the trailing commission

There are no trailer fees paid for Class F4 units.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or switch units of the fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	2% of the value of units you sell or switch within 90 days of buying them. This fee goes to the fund.
Switch fee	Your representative's firm may charge you up to 2% of the value of units you switch to another imaxxFund.
Class F4 fee	You may pay fees to your representative to manage the account where the Class F4 units are held. The amount of the fee is determined between you and your representative, and may be based on the amount of assets in your account.
